

Tom Warden

Tom is senior vice president of community and government relations for Summerlin, the master planned community under development by The Howard Hughes Corporation. He manages media relations as well as government affairs at the local, state and federal levels.

Prior to joining Hughes he served for three years as director of public communications for Clark County. Before that, Tom worked as a reporter and news anchor with KLAS-TV in Las Vegas, earning an Emmy Award for investigative journalism while at the CBS affiliate.

Tom's community service currently includes his role as president of the Southern Nevada Public Television Board of Directors, founding member and trustee of Get Outdoors Nevada, board trustee for the Nevada Chapter of The Nature Conservancy, member of the Clark County School District Partnership Advisory Council, vice chair of the Southern Nevada Water Authority's Water Conservation Coalition Executive Committee, and he is a member of the RTC's Transportation Resource Advisory Committee.